

A Call for Solidarity : Support a Local Service That Is Humane and Generous

For some time now, I have been deeply committed to helping and supporting those in need — a vocation that has become even more meaningful in today's world. As we age, finding employment becomes increasingly difficult, with hiring costs often serving as a barrier for employers. In response to this challenge, I have chosen to turn this obstacle into an opportunity: launching an independent initiative driven by generosity and civic engagement.

Through my active volunteer work in several associations, I have witnessed the many needs for support, particularly among the elderly and people with reduced mobility. This is why I have developed a dedicated support service, with an initial focus on shopping assistance and accompanied walks — a need that several organizations no longer provide. Of course, I also offer additional services, which I invite you to explore on my website www.be-lov.net.

To bring this initiative to success and make it accessible to all, I am reaching out for solidarity-based financial support. Providing these services requires both time and resources. The use of a vehicle, combined with the dedication to providing careful and attentive accompaniment without rushing, inevitably incurs significant costs. That is why I am seeking support in the form of annual sponsorship: a donation, ideally a few hundred Swiss francs if possible, or a monthly donation according to your preference. Any support, whether long-term or one-time, is valuable and plays a crucial role in ensuring the continuity of this service.

Why support this initiative ?

In a society where the most vulnerable are too often forgotten, it is urgent to rebuild connections, offering them compassionate and personalized assistance. Through this service, I aim not only to provide practical assistance but also to offer emotional support—through listening, encouragement, and moments of brightness—to everyone, but more so to those suffering from deep loneliness.

Together, let's make a difference !

Your solidarity and support will allow these individuals to receive a warm, respectful, and human-centered assistance at an affordable cost. Every contribution makes a difference — more financial aid means lower prices for those who need it the most.
